The situation this year is aggravated by the fact that the farmers are experlencing great difficulty in getting help. even to the extent that despite the use of machinery many are threatening to curtail production. It is for this reason that many are being urged to turn back to the farms and those who can are being asked to devote whatever time they can through the summer to such work. THE COAL CASE DECISION.

Not for any harm that it has don and not for any misuse of power that it has made but because it possesses the menace to the country the United States eme court has by a close decision decompanies must be dissolved.

Even though it has been shown that the company has not taken advantage of the position it is claimed to hold, and it has not been shown to be a monopoly through the exercise of the powers pos-sessed but has avoided such a thing, the court is not disposed to view the coninstance of it in its present organization as a desirable thing for the country. Finding that it has the power to increase or diminish the coal supply from large nines, to regulate the supply of cars and ther conveniences in a way to have an affuence upon the operators for good or bad and to dominate through means acquired otherwise than through normal expansion the court takes the position that its good recard cannot be regarded as sufficient to avoid a dissolution of the organization. Even though it is nonlit-ted that no unjust use has been made of the power possessed, the consideration given it for good behavior is no; suffiembination. It is a case where the posof the misuse of the power, in of the past record, is considered ently great to have the menace re moved before the organization gets into Shorttyping is the new system of writing whose steady and continued advance is the most couvineing proof of its value. It combines in a single system all the following advantages:

When written with pest or pencil it is of exceptional value for the personal use of employers, executives and in professional vocations, because founded on the longhand alfabet.

Written on a typewriter, it enables a typist to record rapid dictation in a manner that has established a new standard of bilice efficiency.

It can be telegraphed, and when used for that purpose reduces the cost of messages.

That old wound was torn open by a most cruel campaign lie when Buchanan was a candidate for president. In this atrocious attack, he was accused by the editor of the New York Heraid, the elder James Gordon Bennett, of having gone out and hanged himself to escape the vengeance of a brother of his betrothed. Although he was cut down, according to the malicious yarn, in time to save him from a suicidal death, it was only necessary for Bennett to point the gredulous reader to the way in which the candidate always carried his head tilted to one side as proof that his neck had been permanently twisted in his attempt at suicida. Every one could not know that this familiar, habit was due to an imperfect menages.

The use of this system means time saved for the employer a new ideal of speed for typists, more work done in a given time or less time needed for the accomplishment of a given quantity of work, and a general increase in office efficiency. Having been put to the acid test, Shorttyping has demonstrated its power to save time and money wherever a pen, a pencell, a writing machine or a a pen, a penell, a writing machine or a telegraph key is used; and it has inaug-urated a movement of turning to the typewriter for recording high-apeed dic-tation—a movement that is gaining mo-mentum continually. niliar, habit was due to an imperfect millar, habit was due to an imperfect vision.

Buchanan was by no means a crabbed old bachelor. He remained always most courteously attentive to women, though with a perfect impartiality. Nor did he keep bachelor's hall. At Whetland, his country place, near Lancaster. Fenn, he brought up from early, childhood; the orphaned son of one of his sisters and the orphaned daughter of another, who became, as Miss Harriet Lane, one of the most admired mistresses of the White House. A monument, which will shortly rise to the memory of Buchanan, will stand also as a memorial of the grateful loyalty of this niece, who left $100,000 for its creation to a president who would otherwise go unhonored in stone.

After Buchanan had risen to top rank at the the Pennsylvania bar, with a practice that brought him as much as

The After Effects of Pneumonia

This is No. 2 of a series of advertisements, prepared by a competent physician, explaining how certain diseases which attack the air passages—such as Pneumonia, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Measles or even a long continued Cold—often leave these ergans in an inflamed, congested state, thus affording a favorable footbold for invading germs. After recovery the lungs are filled with a mass of wreckage—the debris of the battle—which must be gotten rid of by a process known as resolution. Frequently, inflamed spots remain, congestion persists, cough hangs on, and the least exposure brings on a cold that is hard to get rid of. If neglected, such damaged air pas-sages may easily develop serious disease of the lungs.
